

DeGaulle Is Victorious In First Election Of Free France

By RELMAN MORIN

Paris, Oct. 22 (AP)—France's first general election in nine years placed an almost unqualified stamp of approval today on Gen. De Gaulle's plans to found a fourth republic on a new constitution drafted by the people's chosen representatives.

Figures announced by the Ministry of the Interior this morning, 12 hours after the closing of the polls, showed that De Gaulle had won an overwhelming victory in a two-pronged election which decided that:

(1)—A constituent assembly—designated at yesterday's election—will draft a new constitution rather than attempt to rebuild the government on the 1885 document which was the foundation of the third republic.

(2)—The executive power will be vested in a provisional government during the seven months the assembly sits rather than in the assembly itself.

Official results from 84 of France's 92 departments:

In favor of a new constitution, 13,887,082; opposed, 554,750.

In favor of an interim government, 5,582,210; opposed, 4,841,249.

Impressive Majority

With approximately half of the ballots counted, the first issue was carried by a margin of 10,694,197 votes to 729,409—a 96 per cent affirmative majority, according to the official figures.

For establishment of an interim government, the Interior Ministry said, the vote so far is 7,445,129 to 3,660,441 against—a 65 per cent majority.

The question of writing a new constitution was supported by all political parties, but the Communists—aided by the radical-socialists—had opposed De Gaulle on the interim government issue.

The election, which saw voters queue up at the polls in record-breaking numbers, witnessed the emergence of the resistance-born Popular Republican Movement as a potent factor in French politics.

Official figures based on complete returns from 39 of France's 90 departments gave the MRP 134 seats in the assembly, which will have 522 members from France and 64 more from the colonies.

Two branches of the Socialists coalesced into a single group and also clinched 134 seats.

De Gaulle Endorsed

The Communists—before the election considered the dominant political group—were assured of 131 seats.

De Gaulle won electoral endorsement all down the line. Sixteen of his present "council of ministers" sought election to the assembly and 15 were victorious. Only Rene Mayer, his minister of transportation, was defeated.

De Gaulle himself and four other ministers did not seek election to assembly posts.

Government statistics indicated between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 persons voted in the national elections—the first in which women were eligible.

TANK CORPORAL HOME FROM WAR

Cpl. Harold E. Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. Hess, Gettysburg R. 3, has returned to his home after two and a half years overseas as a combat soldier with the Second Armored (Hell on Wheels) Division which fought its way from the beaches of North Africa and Sicily through Europe to the eastern side of the Elbe river. He was discharged at Indianapolis Gap October 19.

As a tank commander and gunner, Cpl. Hess saw some of the roughest fighting of the war in the European theater. During the St. Lo breakthrough his unit was surrounded for two days. Conditions compelled him to leave his tank and fight on foot, for which he received the Silver Star medal for gallantry in action.

During the German retreat through northern France Cpl. Hess's tank destroyed six vehicles carrying enemy troops and equipment. Following this engagement he was decorated by his battalion commander with the Bronze Star medal.

Cpl. Hess was wounded in the right hand, for which he received the Purple Heart, during fighting on the Siegfried line. His tank was forced out of action temporarily by German panzer fire.

In addition to his other decorations, Cpl. Hess wears the Good Conduct medal and the Belgium Feuragere given to his division for its part in the liberation of Belgium and participation in the battle of the Bulge. He was with the first American troops to enter Berlin as occupation forces.

Two Rutgers' Students And Woman Guest Die In Frat Fire

New Brunswick N. J., Oct. 22 (AP)—Two Rutgers university sophomores and a young woman guest died, and another young woman guest, four students and an aged negro houseman were injured Sunday when a three-alarm fire swept the three-story frame fraternity house leased by Sigma Alpha Mu.

The dead were Raymond Berger, 19, of Jersey City, and Benjamin Gordon, 20, of Trenton, Rutgers students, and Miss Joyce Patricia Katzman, 20, of Teaneck, a former student at the New Jersey College for Women, who transferred to New York university.

Middlesex County Coroner Robert H. Jamison said the three died of suffocation in the $25,000 fire which wrecked the 35-year-old fraternity house and injured the four Rutgers men and the second woman guest, who were forced to leap from second-story windows, as well as the houseman who slept on the ground floor.

Raymond Schiff, 19, of Jamesburg, one of the injured, told police and university authorities that he

Has Cigarette For Anesthetic

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Sidney Boldin, 23-year-old sailor, says he underwent a major operation in a Japanese prison camp with only a cigaret "to stifle the pain."

A ship's cook first class, Boldin said he suffered two attacks of appendicitis while in enemy hands at Macassar and that a Dutch surgeon—a civilian prisoner of war—was forced to operate without using any anesthetic.

"They tied me to a table," he said. "When the steel cut into my side—boy, that really hurt."

Boldin said the pain was so intense he passed out.

The sailor spent three and a half years in the camp.

"We ate every rat, cat and dog that came within a stone's throw of us," he said.

SERGEANT SEES FAMOUS TABLE OF SURRENDER

Sgt. R. Delroy Keller, McKnightstown, was among three soldiers from the Panama Coast Artillery Command privileged to see, and sit at, the mess table on which articles of Japanese surrender were signed aboard the USS Missouri in Tokyo bay. Sergeant Keller and fellow coast artillerymen were treated to a reconstruction of the scene when the Missouri docked at Balboa harbor on its way through the Panama canal with the homeward-bound fleet.

After three and a half years of service, Sergeant Woodrow W. Koontz, Gardner, has been honorably discharged from the AAF at the separation center at Sheppard Field, Texas. Corporal Brennan, now a clerk-typist for the AACS, entered the service April 28, 1944. Before her induction, she was employed by the New York Telephone company. She attended a Philadelphia high school.

Among navy crewmen with the Pacific Fleet who watched topside as landing craft put occupation troops ashore at Wakayama, Honshu, Japan, was CM 2/c John Allen Wible, 24 Carlisle street, Gettysburg, whose wife, Mrs. Sylvia Wible, lives at that address. The troops were landed at Wakayama for the occupation of Japan's inland cities of Kobe and Osaka.

Given Certificate For Salvage Work

Dr. Eugene Elgin, East Berlin, chairman of the county committee on salvaging materials for the conduct of the war, has been awarded a "certificate of achievement" by Colley S. Baker, executive secretary of the state war salvage committee. The certificate, which was awarded in behalf of the War Production Board and the State Council of Defense, is "in grateful recognition of meritorious voluntary services patriotically performed in the National War Salvage campaign in Pennsylvania."

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Gettysburg college where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and from Lutheran Theological seminary, Gettysburg. At present he is pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Glenside, Pa. From June 1, 1945, to October 8, 1945, the Rev. Mr. Tilberg was associate pastor of Keller Memorial Lutheran church, Washington.

Judge W. C. Sheely Saturday appointed Attorney E. V. Bullett, Gettysburg, as master in the divorce action of Guernon C. Warren against Hilda Dull Warren.

Miss Frances Virginia Sager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sager, Gettysburg R. 2, and Wilmer Clarence Rummel, son of Mrs. Roy Rummel, Biglerville, were married Saturday at Gettysburg by the Rev. Harry S. Ecker, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church.

TROOP C WILL TAKE PART IN SPECIAL TEST

Troop C of the First Cavalry Squadron, Pennsylvania State Guard will participate in the one-day test mobilization of the state guard scheduled from October 27 to November 5. The local unit will leave Gettysburg Sunday morning, October 28 at 8:30 o'clock and arrive in Harrisburg at 10 o'clock. The troop will be under the command of Captain C. Arthur Brame. It is composed of 78 officers and men.

Principal purposes of the test mobilization are to determine the speed and efficiency with which units can be assembled; to impress the vital importance of maintaining a strong, well-trained Pennsylvania guard and to permit a complete and thorough check by unit commanders of federal and state property.

All members of the guard must be present at the mobilization. Only those absent for sickness verified by a physician will be excused.

State Needs Guard

"Although the war has ended, the purposes and functions of the guard have in no way diminished," Governor Martin declared in a recent statement. "Pennsylvania has a big job to do in reconverting to peacetime activity, and our citizens are depending on the officers and men of the guard to keep the commonwealth fully protected and self-sufficient."

Governor Martin called attention to the directives issued by Major General Milton G. Baker, commanding general, in which was pointed out that no grounds whatever existed for the belief that the guard would shortly be disbanded.

"The reactivation of the 28th Division as a national guard unit is most unlikely before 1947, and in the meantime, the Pennsylvania guard must continue to function as efficiently as it has during the past four years," Governor Martin declared.

Governor Martin gave high praise to the guard for its record of service and effectiveness during the war days.

"It must be just as ready now to resist active disorder of any nature, and to maintain the principles of law, order and freedom within our boundaries."

Although, he said, one of the strongest and best equipped guard units in the country, it still has need for experienced men, preferably discharged soldiers, to augment its personnel.

Find Lost Tot On Highway

Parents and Sunday school teachers immediately began a search and soon enlisted the help of Chief of Police Glenn Guise who received a telephone call shortly before 12 o'clock that a lost child was walking along the Baltimore road. Except for being frightened by the experience, Mary was none the worse for the long walk.

NEW LEADER OF VENEZUELA IS EX-SCRIBE, 37

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Venezuela's revolutionary junta, claiming control of the country after a short but bitter upheaval, today inaugurated a new government which is pledged to democracy under leadership of Romulo Betancourt, one-time Communist who resigned from the party and renounced the creed.

The youthful Betancourt (he is 37 and is a former newspaper columnist) has promised a new constitution which will provide a universal secret ballot, and a meeting of the national assembly in April to fix a date for an election. He says that Venezuela will stand by hemispheric unity, and will respect the right of foreigners and their investments. He has announced abolishment of the aged press censorship, which this writer has encountered to his sorrow.

Third Oil Nation

When we speak of Venezuela we think of petroleum, for that great country possesses so much oil that it ranks third in world production, next to America and Russia. The nation has been fairly floating on it for many years, since it is the biggest producer of government revenue.

Now production of this liquid gold is in the hands of foreign interests who have been granted concessions. United States companies hold by far the greatest concessions with the Dutch second and British third. So any revolutionary change of government in Caracas is of vast moment to big oil business in these foreign countries.

For this reason the American and other foreign oil interests will breathe easier because of Senor Betancourt's promise that the new government will respect the contracts made by the previous regime. Untold millions of dollars have been sunk by the concessionaires in the development of the oil fields—some of them in the midst of dense jungles and others in the region of Lake Maracaibo, a huge body of water in the northwest corner of the country. Great numbers of wells have been sunk even in the bottom of Maracaibo in fifty feet of water.

Small wonder that the oil interests should worry over any political upheaval. But of course the granting of these concessions long has been a bone of contention in Venezuela, some political leaders maintaining that all rights should be retained by the country.

METEOR FELL HERE IN 1887

A "fireball" meteor, described as the most brilliant in years, flashed across the sky in an east of Philadelphia early Sunday and exploded with a bright flash.

The phenomenon appeared at approximately 3:05 a. m. Witnesses said it traveled in a northern direction and tore apart with a flare that lit up the whole horizon southeast of Camden.

The explosion was not audible, according to scientists. The meteor, known as the bolide type, they said, ripped open at least 25 to 30 miles above the earth's surface. This apparently happened over the Atlantic ocean.

While meteors are uncommon in Eastern Pennsylvania, seven meteorites, or pieces of meteors which have fallen to earth, have been found in Pennsylvania since the Commonwealth was founded.

Largest of these is the so-called Mount Joy meteorite, found near Gettysburg in 1887. The huge mass, weighing 847 pounds, was the third largest meteorite ever found in this country.

Charge 2 Youths With Stealing Car

Two Philadelphia youths charged with stealing the automobile of Robert Rhodes, Gardner R. 2, and later wrecking it Sunday afternoon, cast of Table Rock on the Biglerville road, will have a hearing today before Justice of the Peace Harry E. Fishel, Boiling Springs.

They are Jack Maynard Williams and Albert Fries, both 18. State police charge they stole the Rhodes auto in Mt. Holly Springs and on the Biglerville road hit a bank. Damage to the auto was reported as slight. Neither of the youths was injured, state police said.

Leaving the accident the youths started hitch-hiking. Nearby residents, Claire Grim, Dewey Wolfe and Bernard Guise brought the youths to Gettysburg, where they were turned over to state police. They were lodged in Cumberland county jail pending the hearing.

JAPAN BREAKS UP BIG FAMILY FINANCIAL TIES

Tokyo, Oct. 22 (AP)—The building of a democratic Japan, both financially and politically, occupied the center of the occupation stage today as government officials announced the powerful Zaybatsu would be broken up of their own accord and the Emperor's blessing to development of a stronger Diet.

The announcement that Zaybatsu, the family financial giants of Japan, would liquidate themselves brought a blast from one of Tokyo's leading newspapers. Asahi Shimbun charged that the breakup, announced by Finance Minister Keize Shibusawa, was "merely reorganization in disguise," an attempt to step from under responsibility for supporting Japanese militarists in the past.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, one of Japan's senior statesmen, a many-times Premier and career diplomat who is one of Emperor Hirohito's close advisors, said the Emperor is anxious that the revision of the constitution provide the nation with a Diet strong enough to be a guiding influence in the nation's politics.

Revises Constitutions

Konoye, at the command of the Emperor who followed General MacArthur's wishes in the matter, is working on a draft of a revised constitution.

Allied headquarters today stepped into another field where there has been much talk and little action and ordered the Japanese educational system revamped. Japanese teaching, henceforth, the supreme headquarters ruled, shall concentrate on peaceful pursuits, eliminating military drill, and other swashbuckling trappings of the militaristic regime which it heroized in the past.

In answer to the request last week of some 4,000 employees of the newspaper Asahi that the owners step aside as disciples of the old regime and let the employees take over, the proprietors today said in effect, "nothing doing."

President Nagatoka Murayama said it was not his understanding of democracy that men need be pushed out of the company they built by persons who had no interest in it.

To Oust Advisors

Konoye, who said MacArthur had suggested that he lead a liberal political movement, stated in an interview today that the necessity of senior statesmen around the throne gradually would disappear under the contemplated constitutional revisions.

The Prince, thrice Premier of Japan and himself one of the most influential that the Diet, or Parliament, would eliminate need for the powerful clique in the shadow of the throne.

Increased power of the Diet will be one more safeguard against the future "misuse of the constitution," he added.

Convicts' Hunger Strike Is Ended

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—The 14-day hunger strike of 13 Eastern penitentiary convicts — called "among the toughest criminals in the country" by prison officials — is over.

The inmates, overcome by roast beef aromas, yelled for food but all they got was glass of milk and a raw egg. Prison doctors said they would not permit solid food until the men are again in physical condition.

GARDEN PLANTS MADE TO SERVE TWO PURPOSES

There are two uses for annuals in the garden quite separate and distinct, one for cutting—to furnish bouquets for the house. The other is to figure in the color scheme of garden decoration. Many gardens make them serve the two purposes at once, but if cut freely for bouquets, naturally, the color effect in the garden is spoiled.

Gardeners have adopted the plan quite generally, when they have room to do so, of growing some of their annuals in rows like vegetables solely for cutting purposes and use others in the garden scheme. A large number of annuals may just as well be planted this fall as next spring, particularly the cutting garden.

Best Sown In Fall

Centauress, which have little garden decorative value, are very valuable as cutting material. They will winter safely if they come up from seed this fall. The same is true of annual larkspur, indispensable for cutting. Both had best be sown this fall to get an early start next spring.

Other annuals that can be sown now are all the various members of the poppy tribe, petunias, snapdragons, alyssum, nicotiana (the flowering tobacco), gypsophila, Chinese forget-me-nots, calendulas and hosts of others. The tender annuals, such as marigolds and zinnias, should be held until spring, although occasionally marigolds self-sow.

Winter Protection

Snapdragons which have bloomed this summer may be cut back and given a protective cover and come

Technically, the soils of no two fields are identical in texture and composition. And this is equally true of soils in two areas adjacent in the same field. Therefore, when samples of soil are taken to determine lime requirements, it is advisable to choose soil from the highest and lowest portions, the wettest and driest, the richest and poorest. In other words, samples should represent all parts of the area to be limed.

And of course, surface soil does not have the same degree of acidity or alkalinity as the lower strata. Thus each sample should consist of a uniform mixture of soil at all levels to the approximate depth of all plant roots. One of the best ways to obtain such a sample is to lift a spadeful of soil to create a hole 6 to 8 inches deep. Then from the sloping side of the excavation a thin slice of soil should be taken, including an equal proportion of soil from all levels. This should be mixed thoroughly and the sample taken from the mixture. A similar sample should be taken from the highest part of the field, also from the lowest. And likewise, samples should be taken from the most fertile and the poorest areas, and from any other extremes.

County Agricultural Agents are always glad to test soil for farmers in his county. The service is without charge. Too, state agricultural experiment stations offer the same facilities.

There is no place for guessing when determining lime requirements for ornamental plants, vegetables, fruits and field crops. For example, the lower safe range of alkalinity for some important crops and plants is: alfalfa and sweet clover—pH 6.5; red clover, spinach, barley, cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce, cucumbers, celery and asparagus—pH 6.0; corn, wheat, oats, cantaloupes, asparagus, tomatoes and lima beans—pH 5.5; redtop, soybeans, snap beans, cowpeas, tobacco, vetch, potatoes and rye—pH 5.0; strawberries, buckwheat and watermelons—pH 4.5.

Among ornamental plants which prefer a soil reaction near neutral are: alyssum, anemone, aster, begonia, bellflower, box, carnation, chrysanthemum, clematis, dahlia, geranium, gladiolus, honeysuckle, through for early bloom next spring. Experiment has shown that the California wax paper cloches will bring the snaps through the winter in fine shape. The cloche should have a small ventilating slit cut in its side.

The one factor in fall seed sowing to be attended to is mulch. Heavy rains will wash the seeds out of their regular rows unless a protection against the driving showers is given. Leaves, straw or stalks of the flower garden will give ample protection. If the seeds can be sown in a seed bed for transplanting in the spring a wooden curb about the bed to prevent the washing of heavy rains is advisable.

hydrangea, larkspur, lilac, narcissus, (daffodil), pansy, peony, poppy, primrose, privet, rose, tulip and zinnia. It is well for beginners to recall that neutral in soil tests means near pH 7.

Ornamentals preferring slight acidity, that is, a little below pH 7, include several varieties of aster, azalea, heather, lily-of-the-valley, holly, iris, juniper, phlox and most lilies. Rhododendrons require more acidity than do other members of this named group.

There is, of course, no need to worry about the specific lime requirements of each vegetable and ornamental and it is not necessary to provide the exact pH degree for them. In the main it is highly advisable to keep the vegetable garden soil safely alkaline, with the exception of soils for potatoes, rhubarb, watermelons, blueberries, strawberries and brambles. In the flower garden acidity must be provided for rhododendrons, azaleas, lily-of-the-valley, most lilies and a few other acid-loving plants.

The editor will be glad to answer all questions readers wish to ask on this important subject. Write him whenever any related problems arise.

Green Feed For Laying Hens

It is not by mere accident or whim that Nature chooses late spring for the nesting season of most birds in their native state. Of course, there is a long summer ahead for the fledglings to reach self-supporting size before time for their annual migration, but the primary reason for late spring propagation is found in the fact that natural food supplies are then plentiful and the female comes to her egg-laying task with rationaries available to sustain her in maximum health and vigor.

If poultry were to revert to habits common to their original parents when they were wild birds, hens would lay eggs only in late spring. Thus, to keep domesticated hens laying profitably around the entire year, owners must not only keep hens bred to this altered habit of production, but they must seek always to create the "late-spring" environment conducive to such laying. One of the most important factors of this attainment is to provide plenty of green feed for hens from the time they are brought into winter quarters from the summer range until they return to fresh growing forage the next May.

Flock owners who have neglected this phase of fall and winter feeding have but to make a thorough test of its potential merits to learn its importance. Not only do hens fed on plenty of green feed continue to lay steadily all fall and winter when egg prices are normally at the year's peak, but they remain in better health and thereby escape many seasonal ills common to poultry after cold weather arrives. Thus, the flock mortality rate is lowered at the same time egg production is increased.

Lettuce, cabbage, kale, Chinese cabbage, Swiss chard and other green leafy vegetables should be grown especially in the late garden for this purpose. Supplies are easily stored in outdoor pits, coldframes and cellars to furnish feed for hens until well into late winter. Many poultry owners buy discarded green vegetables from grocery stores, supplies unfit for human consumption but entirely safe and suitable for feeding hens. And alfalfa and clover hay with most of the green leaves intact may be used. Such legumes possess the added value of furnishing needed proteins in the flock

GARDEN DUTIES FOR OCTOBER

Dig in bone meal or wood ashes around lilac bushes. Fall is the best time for the planting of lilacs.

Set aside an ample supply of soil, sand and peat moss for use when sowing seeds indoors during the winter.

Prepare the coldframes and transplant all tender perennials susceptible to winterkill. Water them well after planting in the frame. Place each over the frame when the ground starts to freeze.

See that all the bulbs, tubers and roots stored over the winter are properly labeled. It is wise to make an inspection of the labels outdoors.

After hardy chrysanthemums have finished flowering, cut them back to within a few inches of the ground. Tender varieties should be lifted and carried over winter in the cold frame or in pots.

Mow the lawn as long as the grass continues to grow, but do not cut it short.

Make sure that the beds prepared for rose planting receive plenty of cow manure or bonemeal. Ample drainage should be provided.

When planting tulips and daffodils, dig the holes large enough to let each bulb slide firmly to the bottom and not hang suspended with air pockets underneath.

Larkspurs, cornflowers and other winter hardy annuals may be sown outdoors now.

Blueberries are moved successfully in October.

Most deciduous trees can be moved as soon as the leaves drop. Flowering dogwood, magnolia, tulip trees and sweet gum do not move easily in the autumn.

ration. Alfalfa meal is often included in commercial laying mash for this role. And while some poultrymen object to sprouted oats for bridging the period in late winter when green vegetables are not available for hens, this source is often the only unlimited means of keeping hens adequately supplied with green nutrients.

Green feed should be furnished to hens so it is not contaminated during the feeding period. It should be fresh daily and offered in woven wire containers suspended to the house walls at least a few inches from the floor. This plan not only keeps the feed clean, but it provides needed exercise for hens in obtaining it. With chicks this exercise often prevents the vicious habit of cannibalism.

Of course, a well balanced ration of laying mash should be kept be-

FALL SETTINGS GAIN TIME ON HARDY PLANTS

Perennial vegetables such as asparagus, rhubarb and hardy onions are better planted this fall than next spring. Asparagus and rhubarb will be ready to harvest a full year sooner while the onions will produce a harvest next spring.

For the asparagus bed, roots should be obtained and placed in a location which need not be disturbed during the life of the garden, since a good asparagus bed will last several decades. Deep, rich soil is required and the plants should be given ample room, with three feet each way between hills. Dig a hole a foot deep, spread the roots out and set the crown of the plant six inches below the surface.

Rhubarb Long-Lived

Rhubarb is another long-lived plant. Six plants will suffice for the average family and they should be placed where they will not be disturbed, perhaps near the asparagus in a garden screen or border.

The hardest winter onion is the red perennial, sometimes called the Egyptian. This is one of the onions which instead of bearing seeds, produces at the top of the seed stalk a bunch of onion sets. These sets should be obtained and planted this fall, a foot apart in the row, in rows two feet apart; though few families will need more than one row.

This onion never produces a round bulb, but in the spring as soon as the ground thaws, it begins to grow stalks like green onions. Part of each clump may be pulled up and used, and with this annual thinning, and ordinary cultivation, the plants will live indefinitely. The flavor of the stalks is mild in the early spring, but becomes stronger later.

For Mild Winters

Where winters are mild, some of the potato or multiplier onions may be planted in the fall, and they will produce clumps of green stalks in the early spring. These must be set out each year as the entire plant is harvested. In the colder states these onions will not survive without a heavy mulch, and in some winters even this will not protect them.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SAD, GLAD DAY

Yes, there were tears mothers, world over, shed
When first to the schoolroom their baby is led;
And heartache and lumps in the throat, and all that,
As they turn back to look at the child where she sat.
And I went away with wet eyes, like a fool,
When Ellen Elizabeth started to school.

"It doesn't seem possible, really," said I,

"Since the day she was born five glad years have gone by.
As though it were yesterday, I can recall
The night that I paced that grim hospital hall
And waited her coming, and broke every rule.
Now, Ellen Elizabeth's started to school!"

In her sunbonnet blue and a pretty new frock,
They started away at the stroke of the clock;
And so brave they appeared, and so happy was she,
They wondered just what was the matter with me.
I said, "It's the weather, too hot or too cool!"
As Ellen Elizabeth started to school.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FEATHER-BED LIVING

We were not put into this world to watch things go by. Even the earliest stories of man upon this earth tell us that he did something about it. He had to eat and he had to sleep—but he had to do some thinking and much working, even to get that food. And every time he did a new thing something was revealed to him. He had no feather-bed to lie upon at night.

Each of us is a development. It never wholly appears just what manner of man or woman either of us is to become. Not until long after a man dies do historians begin to appraise him—especially where he has been a living force in the world. A great man's work enlarges as we get a distance from it.

I never liked that line in the song that was sung in the church when I was a small boy, where it was written about being wafted to Heaven upon "flowery beds of ease." I know nothing about Heaven but I do know that people will never get there on feather beds. Struggle, strife, sacrifice, suffering, sorrow—things that round out a human being—these are what prepare one for a happier existence beyond the grave, else I have a wrong idea about what Heaven is to be.

The happier people, I have always observed, are those who work—those who have to work hard, with lots of problems behind that work. No one has more glory attached to him than the tired worker.

There is too much feather-bed living in this world. There are too many hunting for soft jobs, soft seats, soft problems—and an all-round soft existence. That isn't life! Life is best when it is the most difficult. Then it is that a man is put to his mettle, tried in the fire and all the alloy in his make-up burned up, so that he stands before the world in his completeness as a man. Then let everybody say what they will.

I like that poem by Eddie Guest in which he told about the man who tackled the job that couldn't be done—and did it! He never got up from a feather bed.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Things That You Can Take With You."

When Princeton was founded 12 of its 23 trustees were Presbyterian ministers.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Benjamin Schriver, Esq., today entered upon his duties as High Sheriff of this county.

The Election—The Whigs of the "Young Guard" have come up to the work like men, and by indubitable evidence have evinced their attachment to the noble principles of the Whig cause. A most desperate attempt was made to break in upon the Whig ranks in one or two quarters, but every attack failed, and our banner streams beautifully over an impenetrable phalanx, with "VICTORY" inscribed upon its folds.

York Springs has a host of choice spirits, and valiantly did they exercise their steel upon the foe. Little Freedom, too, has a firm and steady band of patriots, Mountjoy, Germany, Hamilton, Berwick, Tyronne, Cumberland, &c., have also stood firm in their integrity, and deserve the approbation of their fellow Whigs.

Average Whig majority 499!

Married—On the 16th inst., by the Rev. John Ulrich, Mr. Jacob F. Shull, to Miss Mary Galt—all of this county.

In Chambersburg, on the 7th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Sprecher, Mr. Valentine Crouse (date of Gettysburg), to Miss Maria, daughter of the late Peter Shaffer, Esq., of Chambersburg.

On the 7th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Sentman, Mr. Jesse Sharretts, to Miss Rachel Eyer—both of this county.

Notice—Having purchased a WAGON at Public Sale, and a HORSE at Private Sale, I hereby give public notice, that I have loaned the aforesaid property to Mr. NICHOLAS WEAVER, of Gettysburg, Pa., subject to be reclaimed whenever I may think proper, and warn all persons from levying on said property for any debts of said Nicholas Weaver.

MICHAEL SALTZGIVER.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Accident—On Thursday the Hagerstown stage came up with French's Circus and Caravan at the hill this side of Bream's tavern. The horses, frightened by the sudden appearance of the camels on the hill, wheeled suddenly round in the narrow cut. The driver, Mr. Massum, held on to the reins, and forced his team against the fence. The stage was broken but no serious damage was sustained by the passengers.

Dissolution Notice—Notice is hereby given to all persons that the firm of TATE & HOLTZWORTH is dissolved by mutual consent. All persons indebted to or having claims against said firm will please call upon Wm. D. Holtzworth and make settlement immediately.

PERRY J. TATE,
Wm. D. HOLTZWORTH.

Married—Heintzelman—Rebert, On the 18th inst., in this place by the Rev. W. R. H. Dietrich, Mr. John D. Heintzelman to Miss Jennie M., daughter of Mr. Joseph Rebert, all of Franklin township, this county.

Landis—Eckert, On the 9th inst., by the Rev. J. E. Honeycutt, Mr. Henry Landis to Miss Elenora Eckert, both of Reading township, this county.

Shank—Rether—On the 20th inst., at the bride's residence in Middletown, by the Rev. M. Snyder, Mr. Israel Shank, to Miss Alzena A. Rether, both of Middletown, this county.

Trostle—Patterson—On the 20th inst., by Rev. J. T. Shaffer, at the bride's residence, Mr. Daniel Trostle, to Miss Elizabeth C. Patterson, both of this county.

The Railroad—Last week we announced the sale of the Gettysburg Railroad to Mr. Maltby, for $181,000. The decree of sale requires the purchase money to be paid within 30 days after the sale. The fund will be distributed pro rata among the Bondholders, who will realize from this fund and the surplus now in the hands of the Sequestration about 90 cents on the dollar.

So far as we can learn Mr. Maltby buys the road purely for speculative purposes. Mr. Maltby resides in New Haven, Connecticut, and is represented to be a man of large means.

Improvements—Washington Scott, of Freedom, has erected a fine house on his farm on Marsh creek, and is erecting a new barn.

Correction—We notice in the telegraphic despatches from Washington the reported illness of Hon. Edward McPherson, clerk of the House of Representatives. We presume the report originates from the fact that Mr. McPherson's health was not good during the early part of the summer, and that he had spent most of his time at home, in rest and recreation. His friends, however, will be glad to learn that so far from being ill at present, his health has been greatly improved, and is now better than it has been for a year past.

STRIKE TOTAL IS HALVED AS PITS RE-OPEN

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's strike total was cut almost in half today, despite a looming 10-city walkout of glass workers as some 216,000 coal miners streamed back to the pits on orders of their union chief, John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Returns and new disputes left the total idle in labor disputes at 217,000, and, barring any fresh walkouts, that figure was slated to drop another 16,700 during the week with the return of laid-off steel workers who had been forced into idleness when the coal shutdown deprived blast furnaces of fuel.

228,000 Return

This was the general situation: Returning to work: A total of 228,000 composed, excluding the coal miners, of 3,000 at General Motors' Packard electrical plant at Warren, Ohio; 5,000 APL Ship Repairmen in the Los Angeles area; 1,500 at the General Electric X-ray corporation in Chicago; another 1,400 at the Revere Copper and Brass company, Chicago; and 2,000 Michigan utility workers.

Off their jobs or due to leave: 15,000 glass workers in 10 cities; 5,000 steel workers idle as a result of a walkout of 144 transport workers at Republic Steel's Canton alloy division, Canton, O.; and 1,500 Western Electric employees, Kearny, N. J.

Still idle: 61,700 northwestern lumber and sawmill workers; 2,700 bus drivers, 7,000 moviemakers, 9,300 cotton and textile employees and 3,500 AFL Gulf Coast Longshoremen with the balance of the national totals made up in strikes ranging from 25 persons upward.

Disputes In Offing

Future rumblings: 30,000 CIO West Coast Longshoremen demanded "living cost" increase in pay, and set October 29 as a strike date; the sprawling United Automobile Workers engaged in an exchange of statements via the press with the General Motors corporation, with which they are negotiating for a 30 per cent wage increase; and in Congress Sen. Ellender, (D-La.), suggested the legislators postpone all labor bills and let the contenders "shake down" into their postwar relationships.

One of the largest new threats against labor peace came with the announcement by a spokesman for the CIO Federation of Glass, Ceramic, and Silica Sand Workers that unionists would leave their jobs today. He said a breakdown in contract negotiations was the immediate cause.

No "In-Law" Trouble In This Household

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—"In-law" trouble will never bother Raymond and Martha McGinty—they share the same parents.

A special orphan's court order has given the foster brother and sister permission to wed because there are no blood ties. The wedding is set for Nov. 6.

Mrs. Gertrude McGinty, mother of Raymond, an ex-lieutenant, signed her consent for her foster daughter who is just 17.

"I won't know which side of the church to sit on," worried Mrs. McGinty.

Amazing Discovery In A Hearing Aid

A big improvement has been made in a hearing aid now welcomed by thousands. It is a new hearing aid that does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, battery case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. So small it fits the palm of the hand. The tone is natural, noiseless, clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone, Dept. 2325, 1450 W. 19th Street, Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Write them today.

Democrats Explain State Surpluses

Harrisburg, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Democratic state committee says that some of the Republican state administration's multi-million-dollar surplus "simply represents an accumulation of human misery in state institutions."

"Practically every state institution was understaffed" during the war, the committee said in a statement. "Beds that should have been filled were empty. Superintendents of the various state institutions claimed that it was practically impossible to secure cooks or supply proper medical or domestic help."

Declaring it had been willing to "charge these conditions up against the war and let it go at that—hoping that something would be done to bring the state institutions back to pre-war standards," the committee said:

"That isn't being done, and to make matters worse, the administration is pointing to the lack of service in the state institutions as an illustration of its economies and is counting the money that should have been spent to help the lame, the halt, the sick, as savings."

New Cabinet For Venezuela At Work

Caracas, Oct. 22 (AP)—A cabinet pledged to democratic ideals took over the reins in oil-rich Venezuela today under sponsorship of a revolutionary junta which stamped out all important resistance to its coup d'etat in a tumultuous week-end of armed conflict.

Bespectacled Romulo Betancourt, 37, a former newspaper columnist, assumed the dual role of President and Minister of the Interior with a pledge that his government had assumed power only to provide Venezuela with "free, direct universal suffrage by secret ballot."

Betancourt promised that Venezuela would take an energetic part in preserving hemispheric unity. "We want to be good neighbors not only on Pan-American Day, with flowery words and phrases, but in deeds as well," he said.

The new President, a one-time Communist who later denounced the party, announced that his government would respect the rights of foreigners and their investments.

MINE BOSSES' UNION DISPUTE IS UNSETTLED

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—Striking bituminous coal miners go back to the pits today—their 27-day walkout at an end.

Recognition of the mine bosses' union—the issue that started the widespread strikes that made more than 200,000 coal diggers idle was still unsettled.

There was only United Mine Worker President John L. Lewis' statement that the issue would come up again at a "more appropriate time."

Meanwhile, the steel industry here slowly climbed back after sagging to a 47-point operating rate, lowest since the depression.

The industry is expected to operate at 55 per cent of normal capacity this week, compared with about 50 per cent last week.

United States Steel Corp., estimated it would take 10-days to two weeks for its plants to return to normal operating levels.

Hardest Hit
Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., hardest hit by the strike with 15,000 steelworkers forced into idleness, said it would reach 50 per cent of normal operations by Tuesday, 75 per cent the following day and full production Friday.

Of the company's 171½ blast furnaces now out of operation, 101½ will be blown in before the week ends. Of the 71 idle open hearths, at least 17 will be back in production.

The company said the majority of the "furloughed" workers will remain idle this week. They are employed on finishing and semi-finishing mills and cannot work until preliminary steelmaking operations have given them the necessary ingots.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., with 1,200 workers made idle, said it would take two weeks to regain its pre-strike production level.

Soldier Injured In Plane Crash

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—Flying to the bedside of his critically ill wife, an Army private was injured yesterday in a crash-landing on the Lincoln highway near here.

Pvt. Nick J. Soldano 29, of Dunbar, Pa., secured an emergency leave from his Winston-Salem, N. C., base after learning his wife, Edna, 25, had been seriously injured in an automobile crash at Conneville.

The plane's radio went dead and the pilot, Donald O. Eubank, of Winston-Salem, said he attempted an emergency landing. The ship crashed on the highway, skimming 150 yards, and went over an embankment.

Soldano and Eubank were treated for abrasions and contusions at Greensburg hospital.

MACHINIST KILLS ESTRANGED WIFE

Bradford, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—Police Lt. Frank Pascarella said a 40-year-old machinist who lay in wait in the bushes shot and killed his estranged wife and wounded two others as they were about to enter a taxi yesterday, then killed himself.

Pascarella said Frederick Bellis emerged from the shrubbery near his wife's home on Cottage Row just as Mrs. Gertrude Bellis, 38, her daughter and a friend came out to the waiting cab.

Pascarella gave this version: Bellis brandished a revolver,

Expect Backing Of Truman on Merger

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—Back-ers of merging the army and navy under a single department of National defense are counting on President Truman's throwing his weight behind the idea.

This became clear today before a Senate military subcommittee resumed hearings on legislation for the new department. Secretary of the Navy Forrestal was the opening witness for the second week of hearings. The navy is reported against the merger.

Chairman Hill (D-Ala.) recalled in a discussion with reporters that Mr. Truman publicly championed unification of the armed services when he was a senator.

Secretary of War Patterson, General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and General H. H. Arnold, head of the air forces, have endorsed it enthusiastically.

Chapter 12

They passed a gay night spot just as a crowd was spilling into the street before curfew time. Anne saw Carol King first. She looked gay and ravishing with that big roll of golden hair caught high on her head with a jeweled pin. She was laughing up at her escort, chattering loudly. Anne's eyes flew to the tall boy bending over Carol, shielding her from the rain and her breath caught in her throat.

It was several days before Anne saw Major Lowell again, then he came into the office just as she was preparing to leave.

"If I asked you to go somewhere with me this evening you'd say you had three or four dates, of course!"
he teased.

She tossed her head. "I don't have dates, thank you. Perhaps you've forgotten that I'm engaged. See?"
She stretched out her hand with its cool, white diamond sparkling so beautifully.

"Hum! Very pretty! However, a trip to see someone interesting with a super-annated anti-diluvian like me wouldn't count, would it?"

She looked at his bronzed face, his tall figure stooping a little against her desk to disguise his limp. "You must be all of twenty-seven," she surmised.

"Twenty-eight," he corrected briefly, "and so perfectly harmless.
Come. How about it? The invitation includes dinner, too."

"But I should go home and dress."
He brushed that aside. "I'm positive you haven't anything in your wardrobe prettier than that little blue dress with its white frills. Come on, stop stalling. Let's go."

Why did she let him drag her around, bully her so? And what did he want of her, anyway? She thought of last evening and shuddered a little. Eve was working on the night shift now and did not get home until eleven. Anne had been utterly lonely, frantic in seeking things to do to pass the hours away. She had no wish to repeat that performance tonight.

John turned the nose of his car toward the blue foothills in the distance. Anne, relieved that she had let him persuade her to come, was content to sit quietly, not questioning their destination. She mentioned that she had heard many comments on his broadcast.

"Everybody thought it was wonderful. By the way, I've finished the last three whenever you're ready for them. I could have brought them along."

"I'm glad you didn't," he answered, deftly maneuvering the car around a big red truck.

"Why?"

"Gives me an excuse to drop in tomorrow to pick them up!"

Now what on earth did he mean by that! She gave him a look of exasperation and he grinned at her.
"Don't forget you're coming along with me to the station Monday night," he reminded her. "I couldn't say a word if you weren't there."

"That's plain silly. You talk like I'm a rabbit-foot or something! I can't possibly be with you every time."

"Why not?"

"Well—I'll probably have something else to do."

"Heaven forbid!"

"If you ask me, I think this is a very silly conversation," she said sharply.

"Yes, isn't it? Why don't you be quiet?"

He was laughing at her, teasing her. He had dropped his bitterness like a mantle—he was almost gay.
How many sides did this strange man have?

He turned into a long shaded avenue between two great stone pillars. "This," he said "is Meadow-brook. You didn't know that I'm a farmer, did you?"

"Not really? I lived on a farm, too, all my life until I came to town to take the job at Mr. Farham's!"
"You did?" The fact seemed to please him out of all proportion to its importance. "I knew there was a bond between us. It's the pull of the good earth."

The house at the end of the avenue was big and old and ivy-hung.
A huge, pillared porch stretched across its entire front. It seemed surrounded by the enchanting fragrance of springtime and in the soft dusk it looked old and mellow and secure.

John led Anne across a wide hallway and into the drawing room. She had a confused impression of vastness, of muted colors in chintzes and draperies, of shining floors and gleaming copper; of a high glistening chandelier and a small bright fire in a beautiful old Adam fireplace. It was the loveliest room she had ever seen.

John said, "Wait here. I won't be long." She waited uncertainly for a moment, then sank into one of the huge old divans. She realized that this room, this house, had a definite personality as houses sometimes do—it breathed the gentle spirit of a forgotten age. Here one could forget the eternal striving of the modern world, and drift effortlessly back to gracious living.

Many questions rose in her mind.
How was it possible to reconcile the bitter, sharp-tongued John Lowell with the quiet charm of this room?

Funny she hadn't thought of that since until this moment. Was there someone who didn't wait for John Lowell and was that the answer to his bitterness? And why had he brought her here tonight? Why did he keep seeking her out, anyway?

He knew of her engagement and if,
as she believed, he himself were nursing a heartbreak—what attraction did she have for him?

She wondered, too, if he had perhaps seen Wayne with Carol King that other night and if he had been gaily silent and apparently un-observing merely to save her feelings. Did he perhaps feel a little sorry for her because of that and had invited her out here because of pity? She could not bear the thought.
Least of anything in the world she wanted John Lowell's pity—or anyone else's for that matter—since the affair had a quite logical and adult explanation in her own mind. By tomorrow she would have had time smiled, thinking that she, too, had now joined that great crowd of women around the world who watch and wait for letters.

There was a little stir in the door-

In front of him he pushed a wheelchair in which sat a red-haired woman with John's own keen dark eyes and a wide, generous, laughing mouth.

Labor And Industry
"Shake Down" Urged

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—A suggestion that Congress sidetrack all labor legislation for six months and let labor and industry "shake down" into a postwar relationship came today from Senator Ellender, (D-La.).

"They ought to be able to adjust their problems themselves," he told reporters.

But, elsewhere in Washington,
there were moves to extend a hand in helping establishing labor-management relations for reconversion:

1. President Truman has promised a statement on the wage-price issue.
It may come from the White House today.

2. Rep. Ramspeck, (D-Ga.), sug-

UNBEATEN NAVY FACES UNSCORED UPON PENN 11

By LEE LINDER

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—"Here comes the Navy" was the hit song on the University of Pennsylvania campus today as the Quakers, only major Keystone state gridiron eleven idle over the week-end, brushed up on their single wing touchdown recipe and brewed a bit of "T" in preparation for the unbeaten and untied Middies from Annapolis.

The Penns, too, are in the select circle with one extra distinction—their goal line has not been crossed this year. But Saturday comes the Navy... for the top football game in the nation.

Fifteen Pennsylvania colleges broke even in week-end games—seven winning, seven losing and one school playing a tie.

The Owls of Temple university came out of their Friday night contest with West Virginia a bit ruffled but still unbeaten with win No. 4—by 28-12—under their wing.

Pitt Smothered

Pitt was snowed under 39-9 by the Irish of Notre Dame. Shaughnessy predicted the Panthers would win, but his "T"-leaves went sailing in all directions as the Irish tore the Pitt defense to shreds.

Penn State bounced back from last week's defeat by Navy and presented Bucknell with its Fifth straight lacing—a 4-7 walloping at Lewisburg.

The Lehigh Engineers opened its 1945 grid season with a 6-0 triumph over Muhlenberg at Bethlehem. It was the last game for the Mules who lost every one of five.

The mythical State Teachers' college grid title was claimed by Lock Haven by virtue of its one-point 8-7 win over Bloomsburg.

Other Results

Lafayette was walloped 26-7 by the Kings Point (N. Y.) Merchant Marine eleven at Easton; Drexel conquered Haverford at the latter's stadium, and Washington and Jefferson bowed to Fairmont 19-0 at Fairmont, W. Va., in other games Saturday. West Chester State Teachers tied invading Delaware university 6-6 Friday night.

Villanova and Scranton won by identical 14-0 scores yesterday—Villanova entertained Detroit university and batted them into submission, while the Tomcats scored two first-half touchdowns to edge Atlantic City (N. J.) Naval Air Station.

UNBEATEN LIST SHRINKS IN PA.

Harrisburg, Oct. 22 (AP)—The ranks of Pennsylvania's unbeaten scholastic football teams were a trifle thinner today as upsets eliminated Allentown in the east and Greensburg in the west.

Allentown's 20 game winning streak was shattered at Phillipsburg, N. J., on the same field where the Canaries last tasted defeat two years ago. The score was almost identical, 9-0, as compared with an 8-0 setback in 1943.

Greensburg dropped out of the WPIAL title race as Altoona showed real power to win 14-7, while Donora and New Kensington, only remaining contenders for the coveted title chalked up easy victories.

Two teams, Donora and Bedford, emerged from the week-end play with unblemished records, both being unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon. Donora swamped Brownsville, 26-0, and Bedford turned back Mercersburg academy by the same score.

Other teams played very close to form as Bethlehem moved to the front of the Big Fifteen with a 27-6 win over Reading; Huntingdon extended its winning streak by swamping Lewistown, 33-6 to top the western conference.

In eastern games Easton spoiled Pottsville's unbeaten season, 14-7; Hazleton topped Shamokin, 14-7; John Harris rallied to beat York, 13-7; Sunbury blanked Lebanon, 20-0; Steelton beat William Penn, 13-6, all in the ranks of the Big Fifteen, while in the eastern conference Kingston jolted Plains, 22-13; Minersville crushed Ashland, 24-2; Larksville defeated Nanticoke, 14-6; Mt. Carmel turned back Shenandoah, 13-7; Nesquehoning upset Tamaqua, 14-0; Coaldale humbled Summit Hill, 24-19; and Mahanoy City ended a long losing streak by beating Frackville, 20-7.

PURDUE UPSETS BUCKEYES 35-13

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Despite their fall from the unbeaten ranks, Ohio state's Buckeyes and Georgia's Bulldogs will command plenty of attention Saturday when they oppose all-conquering Minnesota and Alabama in two of the best games on the week-end program.

Ohio state's 35-13 defeat by Purdue Saturday was the biggest upset of the season.

The Buckeyes, who ran up 12 straight victories over a two-year span until they met Purdue, appear in for another licking from Minnesota. Bernie Bierman's Gophers surprised a homecoming throng of 56,000 at Minneapolis by taking to the air to wallopp north-western 30-7.

Georgia's 32-0 trouncing by Louisiana state was almost as stunning as Ohio state's loss. Alabama handed Tennessee its first defeat of the campaign by a 25-7 count.

Maryland was the only major undefeated college team to topple, Virginia Tech staging the 21-13 surprise party.

PLANES FORCED DOWN

Pittsburgh, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Air Transport Command reported weather conditions forced unscheduled landings here Friday by 71 warplanes enroute to an airshow at Columbus, Ohio.

CANNERS AND RED LION IN SCORELESS TIE

Biglerville high school's football team still remains unbeaten although its three-game winning streak was halted Saturday afternoon when the Canners were forced to accept a scoreless deadlock with Red Lion on the latter's field.

The teams were very evenly matched throughout. Each compiled eight first downs and each made one serious bid to score.

Eddie Utz's speed saved the Canners from possible defeat late in the second period. Fitzkee, Red Lion halfback, broke away and streaked about 80 yards before Utz tackled him on the 1-yard line. Fitzkee was fully 10 yards ahead of Utz when he started his run. The Canners threw up a stonewall defense and threw their opponents for losses to take the ball on the 7 as the half ended.

Canners Threaten

In the first period Biglerville made its strongest bid to score. On the kick-off Biglerville fumbled with Red Lion recovering on the 10. However, the Canners held firm, taking the ball on the 17. Coach Bream's lads nearly scored a few minutes later when Utz broke away on a long jaunt to reach the 1 but a penalty against the Canners brought the ball back to midfield. Biglerville battled its way to the three-yard line but a grounded pass behind the goal line which just escaped a Biglerville player broke up the drive.

Other than for those threats play was confined mostly to midfield with the honors about even.

Near the end of the game Brough, star right guard for Biglerville, suffered a slight injury to his lips and teeth and was forced to retire.

Next Friday evening the Canners meet Lower Paxton on the Island gridiron at Harrisburg.

Reports American Gunboat Fired On

San Francisco, Oct. 22 (AP)—Charles Miner, Mutual Broadcasting company correspondent, broadcast from Shanghai today, reported that the American river gunboat, the USS Seize, was fired on today midway between Shanghai and Nanking on the Yangtze river.

Miner said there were no casualties aboard the vessel and the results of the return fire were not ascertained.

DELRONE GAINS THIRD WIN 7-0

A touchdown in the final period of the game by W. Noel, who swept around left end for 14 yards, gave Delone Catholic high a 7-0 decision over St. Matthew's high school in a football game played Sunday afternoon at Conshohocken.

For three periods the teams battled to a scoreless stalemate but in the final quarter the Squires began to get their offense clicking which finally resulted in Noel's touchdown run. Bennett added the extra point on a line plunge.

The victory marked the third in a row for the Squires who now have a record of three wins and three defeats.

REDSKINS BEAT PHILA. EAGLES

Chicago, Oct. 22 (AP)—It's going to take a lot of convincing before anybody will concede that Cleveland's Bob Waterfield isn't the prize rookie of the year in this zany national football league season.

The 191-pound, former UCLA player isn't at the top of the league in passing, but his team is in first place—and primarily because of his accurate pitches and kicking. He led Cleveland to a 41-21 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Buist Warren, 175-pound Philadelphia Eagle discard, ran and passed Pittsburgh to a surprising 21-7 victory over the New York Giants. Boston's previously unbeaten Yanks were dumped by Green Bay 38-14. Washington's Redskins settled one phase of the Eastern division struggle by beating Philadelphia 24-14, and Detroit stayed in the running for the western division crown by handing the Chicago Cardinals a 26-0 setback.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—The once-famous Hitler beer hall in Munich is being converted into a basketball court for Company "A" of the 269th Engineering Battalion.

It's just one of several gyms that G.I. athletes are getting ready for the cage season in Germany, which already has begun with a few trial games on makeshift floors. . . . In the Bamberg 15th Corps area an indoor riding academy soon will blossom out into a full-size tournament court while the 406th Regiment found an ideal spot at Hof, Bavaria, where the municipal gym was equipped with three courts and plenty of seats for spectators. . . . Each division of the Third Army has drawn 200 basketballs, 11 sets of uniforms and 15 pairs of baskets and plenty of shoes have been promised.

PUTTING THE CHILL ON 'EM

At Drulis, Chicago Cardinals' fullback, froze both feet battling in the bulge last winter. . . . After the Cards knocked off the Bears last week, with Drulis in the star role, Coach Hank Anderson of the Bears told Boss Ralph Brizzolara: "Buy a deep freeze. We're going to ice the feet of all our backs."

MONDAY MATINEE

Sid Luckman, who has had his nose busted twice this year, complains that the mask he has to wear interferes with his vision. Some other guys can't see the Bears this season, either. . . . When Joe Louis signed last week for that fight with Billy Conn it was the first time in boxing history that a heavyweight champion had put his name on a contract for a title defense without having a manager at hand.

Bears And Hornets Remain Unbeaten

(By The Associated Press)

The Hershey Bears and Pittsburgh Hornets maintained their unbeaten records over the week-end as they gathered two victories each and took over the divisional leads in the American Hockey League.

The Bears nosed out the New Haven Eagles 4-3 last night for their third victory in four starts.

The Hornets made Buffalo's Bison take it on the chin twice. After capturing the Saturday tilt 7-5 at Pittsburgh, the Hornets journeyed to Buffalo and slammed over three goals in the final stanza to win 6-3.
